They will consolidate their knowledge of language frameworks and key language concepts gained from components 1, 2 and the non-examination assessment. Students will apply these skills to an area of language study that particularly interests them, selected from pre-released subtopics. Students’ investigation skills are developed in the context of one of the following five topic areas: • Global English • Language and Gender Identity • Language and Journalism • Language and Power • Regional Language Variation. Students will consolidate their research skills focused on the pre release materials released by the examination board. Students will carry out a focused investigation and ensure that they have researched the following aspects of their chosen subtopic, as appropriate: • the origins/development • the main features • different varieties • changing attitudes • the influence of social/historical/cultural factors. Students will use their research the observations made in their investigation and the data they gather to inform their response in the examination. CTA: Paper 2 Child language (writing).
